

YOUNG WOMEN* WRITERS GROUP

- Do you like to write?
- Do you enjoy telling stories?
- Do you keep a journal?
- Do you wish you had a place where you could share your thoughts with other girls like yourself?
- Would you like to meet fun, smart young women from all over Atlanta?
- Would you like to participate in poetry readings, or be published in a book or magazine?
- Have you always thought you might like to be a writer, but never knew where to begin?

If you answered YES to any of these questions, and are a woman* between the ages of 14-19, then the Charis Young Women* Writers Group is for you!

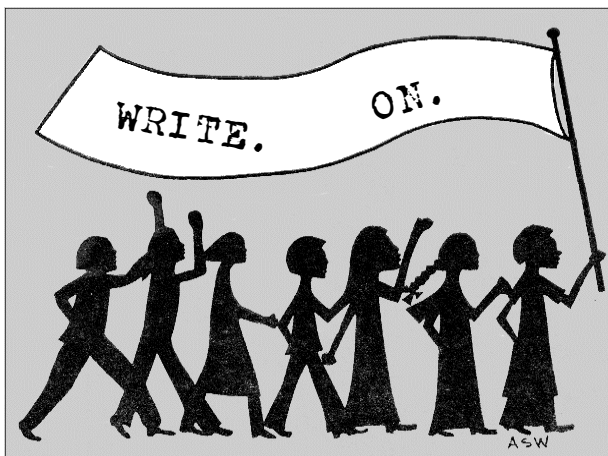

The Charis Young Women Writers Group is open to all young women writers ages 14-19. This facilitated group is a fun, safe, and supportive place for girls to share their voices and stretch their storytelling muscles. The writing group began in 1997 as a way to encourage girls at some of the most difficult moments in their lives, their teen years. When so much in our culture encourages girls to be silent, we believe in helping young women see the power and value of their words, ideas, and lives.

We invite young women of all skill levels and abilities to stop in and see if the group works for them. Our activities are always changing and we always enjoy seeing new faces! The group meets on the 2nd and 4th Mondays of each month from 5-6:15pm at Charis Books & More, 1189 Euclid Ave. NE Atlanta, GA 30307. We are conveniently located a short walk from the Inman Park Marta station and on the #6 and #113 Marta bus lines.
